Dear Parents/ Carers,

Mrs Rayon the brass teacher has asked us to forward the message below for your attention.

This is a great free opportunity for your child to take part in.

Hello Parents and carers,

I'm going to be tutoring at the upcoming Brass Day over half term. Although the children are new to playing it would be great to get them involved, as it's for beginners upwards. If you could forward the below information to parents that would be great. Mention that I'll be there.

Basically all the children learn in ability groups and are brought together at the end for a joint performance which the parents are invited to watch. It's free and they'll just need to bring a packed lunch. It's the first one I've attended but the feedback in the past has been really positive.

As the children will be taking their instruments home for the first time over half term it would be a great way to kickstart their practice out of school.

See below.
